

Benefits of Autodesk Professional Certification

Is Certification for You?

- Do you work frequently with the public, or among other professionals?
- Does your employer require you to stay current with the latest industry solutions?
- Is there a lot of competition in your field of work?
- Do you want to make the best impression possible?
- Are you the kind of person who likes to be the best at what you do?
- Are you required to maintain a credential as a CAD professional?
- Do you want to prove you can do it?

Benefits for Individuals

- Demonstrate your expertise in the latest Autodesk technology.
- Employer recognition (selection, bonuses, advancement, pay)
- Industry recognition of your skill set.
- Earn a portable credential for job retention and mobility.
- Peer recognition – be the best in your company.
- Improve your performance and add value to your company.
- Certificate, logo, and listing in Autodesk's database.

Benefits for Employers

- Objectively benchmark employee performance.
- Make better hiring decisions.
- Benefit by investing in staff – lower turnover.
- Increase productivity by focusing learning on needed skills.
- Improved workforce management – the right person for the right job.
- Competitive advantage - promote the use of Autodesk certified staff on projects.
- Reward employee commitment and expertise – use certification as a goal for performance rewards.

More information: <http://www.autodesk.com/certification>

Email: certification@autodesk.com